When The World Has Grown Weary

9 The angonatit

When the world has grown weary of moving, And the stars are enfeebled with years, When the moon, half-asleep, is a roving Old Ghost in a valley of tears;

When Time is a frightened old woman With sorrow-swept dreams in her eyes, When Hope is a cynic—an omen That everything beautiful dies;

I shall rouse me from aeons of sleeping, To greet youthful sweethearts I knew, Recall ancient laughter and weeping Old friends, and a memory or two.

Thirty-two

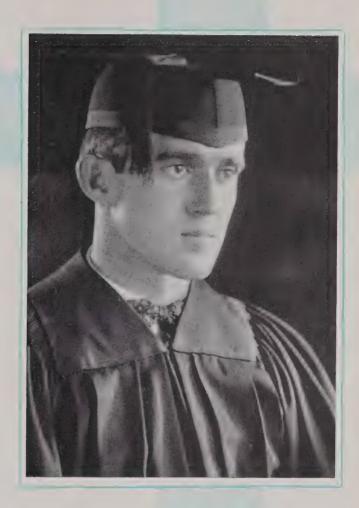

We used to know Bob very well but for the past year and a half we have seen very little of him. He seems occupied with something else and we miss him. There are some who think Bob is sarcastic but those who know him better find it frankness instead. He has acquired a name for himself as an athlete. The football and baseball teams will lose a good man when he leaves and Lynchburg College will lose a student.

BROOKNEAL, VIRGINIA

ACPIVITIES

President, Senior Class; Varsity Football, 3 years; Varsity Baseball, 3 years; President, Spees Club, 26; Student Government, 25; Platonian Literary Society Public Program, 2 years.

NELLIE SUMMERS

Applicant for A. B. Degree

"Pep" is Neflie's keyword. She is a jolly, carefree, and lovable member of the "Sunny Summers Quintet." She is especially interested in any form of athletics and her absence will be felt strongly in the hockey squad of next year. Her numerous friends predict for her great success in her life work as a trained nurse.

ACTIVITIES

Vice-President, Senior Class; Secretary, Student Body, '26; Vice-President Insignia Club, '25; Hockey Squad, 4 years; Basket-ball Squad, '25; Secretary, Victorian Literary Society, '26; Public Program, '25.

ALICE MAJOR SLAUGHTER

NEWPORT NEWS, VIRGINIA
Applicant for A. B. Degree

Where there is music there's Alice always and where we find Alice there's Smitty. The three—the planot Alice and Smitty—are inseparable. Besides her musical ability Alice is known for her sweet disposition and quiet manner—in fact there's more than one reason why we'll miss Alice when she has left us.

ACTIVITIES

Secretary, Senior Class, Secretary, Paderewski Clab, 25, Girls' Glee Club, 3 years, Secretary, Victorian Literary Society, '25; President, Victorian Literary Society, '26; Public Program.

ROBERT R. GIVENS

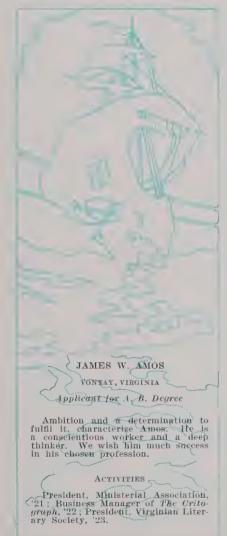

NEWPORT, YHRGINIA

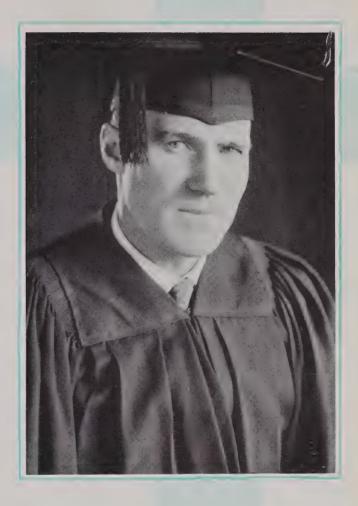

Applicant for B. S. Degree

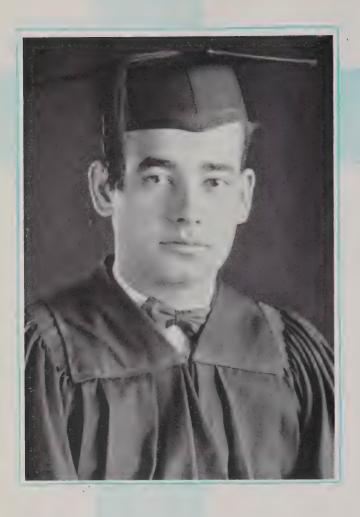

Bob loves Lynchburg for more than one reason and there will be a touching scene when he leaves the city. Bob has two great ambitions: one isto make a success in the business world, perhaps in real estate; the other is to carry away with him a part of Lynchburg to keep forever to help him and inspire him in making his success in the world.

ACTIVITIES

President, Men's Student Government, '26; Vice-President, Monogram Club, '26; Treasurer, Senior Class, '26; Assistant Business Manager, Argonaut, '25; Football Squad, 3 years; Glee Club, 3 years; President, Virginian Literary Society; Public Program, 3 years.

WILFRED CURTIS BAMBER

PETERSBURG, VIRGINIA

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Bill has bots of achievements, the foremost of which is the height of excellency he has reached in the mastery of Pigus Latinus. He is a good student and a conscientions worker but he must have his fun and whereever Bill is there will be fun for he has an eyer ready wit. He has held innumerable positions which speak for his versatility.

ACTIVITIES

President, Athletic Association, '25; Vice President, Men's Student Council; Manager, Football, '24; President, Junior Class: President, Platonian Literary Society, '26; AssoEditor, Argonaut, '25; Varsity 'Ennis, '24; Baseball Squad, '24; Secretary-Treasurer, Spess Club; Secretary-Treasurer, Varsity Club; Secretary-Treasurer, Varsity Club; Secretary-Treasurer, Glectary-Treasurer, Varsity Club; Secretary-Treasurer, Varsity Club; Secr

ADA FRANCES BELCH NEWPORT NEWS, YINGENIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

When trying to think of the qualities that go to make up a versatile and well rounded College Coed Ada has them all. She has entered every type of college activity, dramatic, religious, musical, athletic, and forensic. She is one of those who justly deserves the appelation of "Capable." We wonder which one of her many talents she will pursue as her life work.

ACTIVITIES

President, Paderewski Club, 26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 24; Secretary, Student Government, 25; Senior Representative, 26; President, Victorian Literary Society, 25; Public Program.

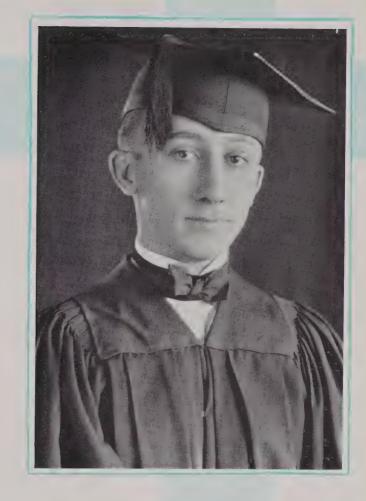

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Nannie is a lover of music, a spiendid student, and a loyal member of her class. We find in her an "honest to goodness" friend. With very many good traits, Nannie shall be missed by a number of L. C. students.

We think she would be a splendid preacher's wife, but that remains to be seen.

ACTIVITIES

Treasurer, Y. W. C. A., '25; Pader-ewski Club. 2 years; Glee Club, 3 years; Urania Public Program, 2 years.

JOHN LLOYD BLACK

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Lloyd is one of the few 1926 graduates who has ventured upon the sea of matrimony before completing his college career. He is now the proud pater of the proverbial "smartest kid in the world." However, paternal obligations have not kept Lloyd from taking part in many activities, from giving comic skits to bossing the Ministerial Association.

ACTIVITIES

President, Ministerial Association; Art Editor, Argonaut, '25; President, Glee Club, '23; Executive Staff Student Ministerial Movement of Virginia, '25; Certificates in Bible; Certificate in Greek; Platonian Public Program, 2 years; Valedictorian.

CLYDE CAMPBELL CALDWELL

SINKING CREEK, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

"Click" is one of the hardest workers in school. He is always busy at something but never too busy to give a kind word to everyone. He is loyal, happy, and a sincere friend. It takes "Click" to put pep into everybody. That's why we have him as one of our cheer leaders.

ACTIVITIES

President, Virginian Literary Society, '25; Vice-President, '24; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25; Argonaut Staff, '25; Member, Student Council, '25; Member, Trāck Team, '24; Cheer leader, '261) Glee Club; Virginian Public Program, 4 years.

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Full of ambition and always striving, Lyle is a well-informed student. What he believes, he sticks to, and you'll have to convince him before he changes. A most faithful member of the Virginian Literary Society and a loyal member of his class Lyle, is to be commended for his efforts.

ACTIVITIES

Virginian Literary Society.

CECILE GREY DAVIS

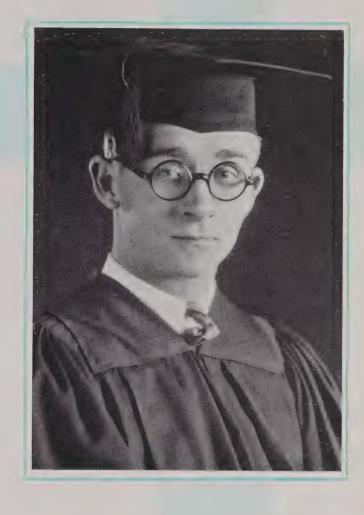

SUTHERLIN, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

To all, except one, Cecile is to be seen and not to be heard. To be sure she is so absorbed in her major task she does not have time to talk much to anyone else.—We can't help but feel that she has been monopolized. However, we do hear much about her literary ability.

ACTIVITIES -

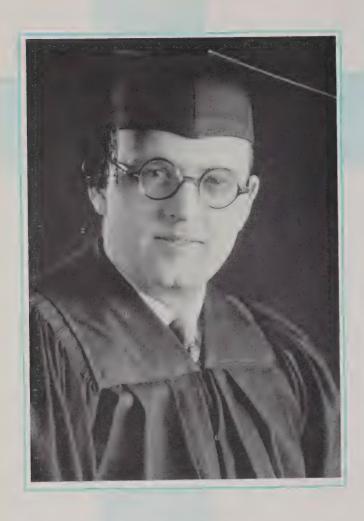

President, Urania Literary Society, '25; Vice-President, Y. W. C. A., '26; Secretary, Junior Class; Secretary, Treasurer. Athletic Association, '26; Treasurer. Student Government Board, '26; Member, Hockey Team; Member, Basket-ball Team; Insignia Club; Urania Public Program, 3 years.

Activities

Manager, Football, 25; Virginian
Literary Society.

BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Faithful, dependable, amable—all sterling qualities—these with many other traits characterize Aubrey. He always has had an ability to accomplish detailed work in a satisfactory manner. His determination linked with his ideals; should make an influence in any community.

ACTIVITIES

Vice-President, Ministerial Association: Assistant Leader, Student Volunteer Group, 24; Secretary-Treasurer, Virginian Literary, Society; Intercollegiate News Editor, The Critograph, 26; Virginian Public Program, 2 years.

NANCY LEE HAWTHORNE

KENBRIDGE, VIRGINIA

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Nancy Lee! The name suggests a lively, carefree, witty person. She always has something cheerful to say and by her good nature has won a big place in our hearts. Her strong point is ringing bells.

We like to hear Nancy Lee sing and the practice hall will lose a frequent visitor.

ACTIVITIES

Manager, Hockey Team, '24; President, Insignia Club, '25; President, Home Economics Club, '23; Head Monitor, '25; Yice President, Victoria Literary Society, '25; Junior Representative Student Government Board; Glee Club, 2 years; Victoria l'ublic Program.

MARJORIE FELICE IRWIN

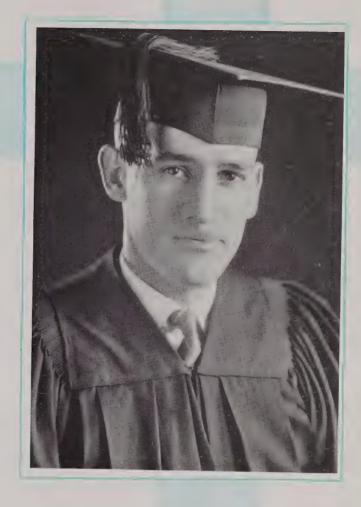

NORMAL, ILLINOIS

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Marjorie is the Florence Nightingale of Westover. She is one of the thinkers of the class. When there is a call for help, when a world or campus problem is being discussed, when a "radical" is speaking somewhere. Marjorie is the one who should be notified. She will leave Lynchburg with a message.

ACTIVITIES

President, Urania Literary Society; Vice-President, Student Government, '25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23; Editor, "Y Handbook, '25; Glee Club. 4 years; Urania Public Program, 3 years.

GASTA D. LAWMAN
SANDIDGES, VIRGINIA

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Gasta is one of those persons of whom it has been said, "Still waters run deep." When he does speak, he generally says something worth while. Earnestness, friendliness, that neversay-die spirit these are some of his return to L. C. to finish this year, was a distinct gain to the Hornet nine.

ACTIVITIES

Baseball, A years; Monogram Club; Spees Club; Platonian Public Program.

M. EDGAR N. LINDSAY

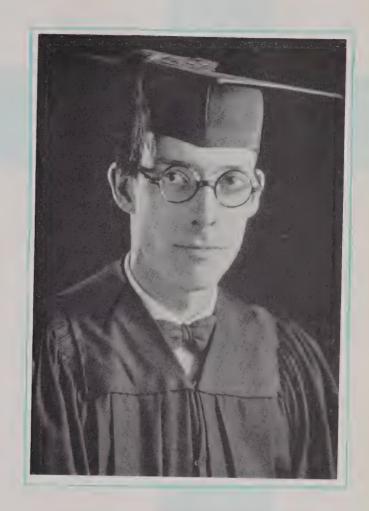

MAGERSTOWN, MARYLAND

Applicant for A. B. Degree

M. Edgar N. Lindsay, unofficially called Ed, is the philosopher, and the dialectician of the class of '26. He has ever been characterized by an abundance of energy and determination and is as much at home acting in a drama as he is in the pulpit.

ACTIVITIES

President, Men's Student Council, '25: President, Platonian Literary Society'; Athletic Editor, Argonaut, '25: Board Athletic Control, 2 years; Varsity Basket-ball, 2 years; Intercollegiate Debate, Tau Kappa Alpha; Treasurer, Y. M. C. A.

WILLIAM J. LINEBACK

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Bill returns to us this year after two years absence. He has resumed his duties as socializer and Y. M. worker. Always feady to help, never slouching, and forever busy—that's Bill. He belongs to the titee Club and his bass voice will be missed next year.

ACTIVITIES

Member, Student Volunteer Group; Ministerial Association: Y. M. C. A.; Cheer Leader; Glee Club; Platonian Literary Society.

VIRGIL E. LOWDER

BLUEFIELD, WEST VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

When Lowder was born his parents gave him the name of Virgil, perhaps to inspire him to follow the example of the other Virgil. It seems to have been for we find our Virgil very gifted in literary work. His fondness for high grades is unexcelled. He is also interested in debating and tennis and takes a big part in all school activities.

ACTIVITIES

President, Y. M. C. A.; President, Tau Kappa Alpha; President, Intercollegiate Debate Council; Editor-inchief, Argonaur, '25; Business Manager, The Critograph, '25; Intercollegiate Debate Team, 3 years; Intersociety Debate; Parnassian Club; Monogram Club; Ministerial Association; Platonian Literary Society.

ACTIVITIES President, Vice-President, Secretary, Urania Literary Society; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Vice-President, Sophomore Class; The Orthograph Staff; Urania Public Program.

"Girlle" couldn't resist the temptation to come back to Lynchburg to graduate. She wouldn't have been happy otherwise and we are glad she came back to us. She is deeply interested in her work and has a decided purpose in life. We do not doubt that she will succeed in whatever work she undertakes.

RUBY BANNOR MARSHALL

SINKING CREEK, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Ruby is one of the quiet, studious girls of the class of '26. She is especially interested in Math, English and "Gym." She always gets her share of merriment out of life. You can tell that if you are with her very much.

ACTIVITIES

Victoria Literary Society; Y. W. C. A.; Southwest Virginia Club.

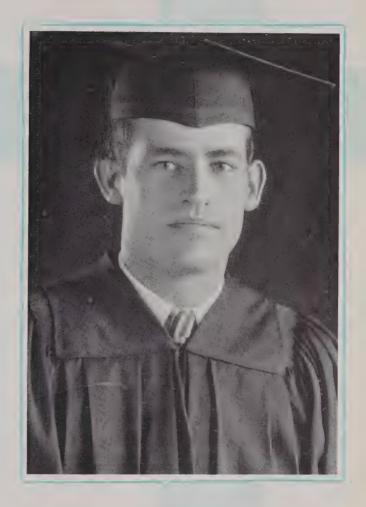

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Quiet and congenial is Herman, but he is ever alert he takes more in than one would imagine for his quietness is but m is lead in g. He first doesn't tell everything he knows, and possibly that is a good idea, for a "socializer" is best when he doesn't broadcast.

ACTIVITIES

Specs Club; Secretary, Virginian Literary Society; Glee Club; Virginian Public Program.

ROBERT E. MCDERMOTT

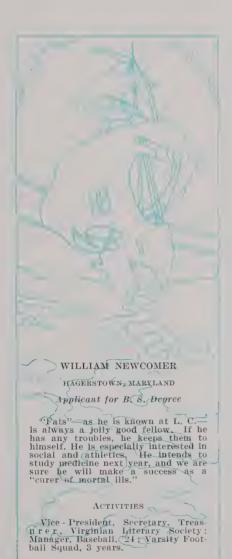

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA

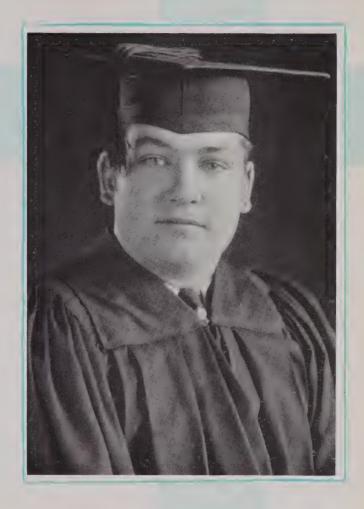

Applicant for B. S. Degree

We haven't learned to know Robert as we should like to, because he is a town student. Those who have known his in class find him to be interested in his work, especially English.

ACTIVITIES

Lynchburg Club.

HUNTER NEWMAN

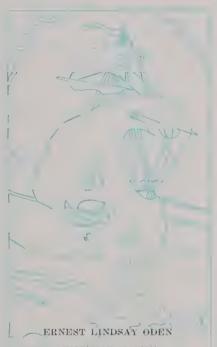

UNIONVILLE, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

If Hunter's dream doesn't shatter, he will some day be a preacher. Then, perhaps, he will get a chance to talk all he wants to. He has been active in ministerial work here in college and during this year he has also become active in social. There is no better luck we could wish him than that he will fulfill his ambitions.

ACTIVITIES

President, Ministerial Association; Assistant Business Manager, The Critograph; Virginian Literary Society; Public Program, 2 years.

HARTSELLE, ALABAMA

Applicant for B. & Degree

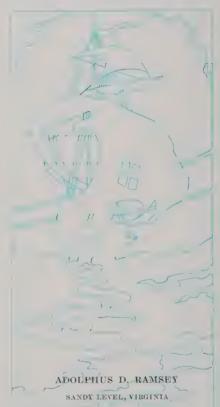

"Long, lean and lanky"—the same old phrase and it can be well used for it applies to the same old kind of fellow. Lindsay is an earnest worker and he puts his heart into his work. Chemistry, sparks, and "sparking," are all in his line.

ACTIVITIES

President, Platonian Literary Seciety; Assistant Professor in Chemistry, 125; Varsity Baseball, 124; Tennis, 2 years; Manager, Tennis, 126; Specs Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 2 years; Platonian Public Program.

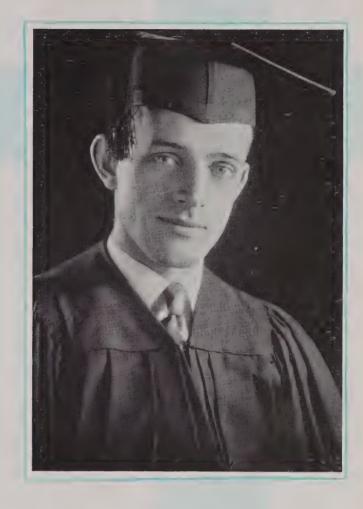

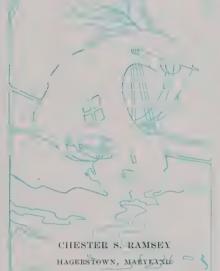

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Adolphus is fond of school and it isn't on account of the "Opposite Sex" either, because he is a town student. Eagerness to learn will surely mean something to him for "he who is determined wins out"—a prophecy that rarely fails.

ACTIVITIES

Virginian Literary Society.

Applicant for A. B. Degree

There is so much to be said about Check for we all know him, and all he has done for the thought life of L. C. "Outlaw War." "Is Crime a Disease?" We have "Check" to thank for stirring us to think and feel the problems in the world around us. His work in the Y. M. C. A. shows him a leader in any field he might choose, and since that field is the ministry, we know we shall hear great things of him later.

ACTIVITIES

President, Student Body, '25; President, Y. M. C. A. '24; Manager, Football, '25; Glee Club, Dramatic Club; Platonian Public Program.

JOHN N. SALOWICH

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Applicant for A. B. Degree

"Sally" is conservative but has a stick-to-it-iveness that will get him any place he so desires. He has starred on the football field, and won honors for us in debating; he has seen stars in the laboratory and has chosen a "Star" to help him work out, a very difficult "compound" in the future.

ACTIVITIES

President, Virginian Literary Society; Football Squad, 2 years; Basketball Team (Class), 3, years; Baseball; President, Glee Club; Volumeer Group; Virginian Public Program.

NORTON LESTER SMITH

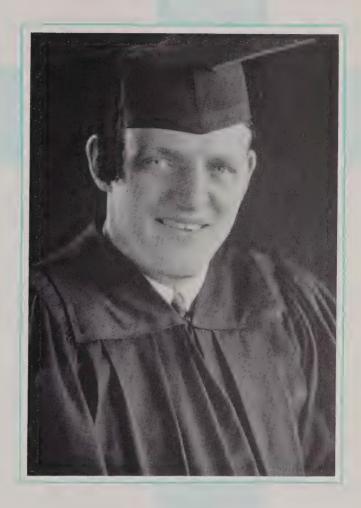

FORK, MARYKAND

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Did you ever hear a loud peal of laughter that sounded like someone was bursting with amusement? Well, that's Smitty. He is funniest when he laughs. Everyone has to laugh with him. Yet there is a serious side to his nature and a sentimental element which a few (?) have seen. We will feel lost without Smitty. In fact, it may be necessary for him to come back and take a post-graduate course for he has been here such a short time.

ACTIVITIES

Member, Football Squad; Dramatic Club; Virginian Literary Society; Public Program, 2 years.

RUTH ELIZABETH STAUDE

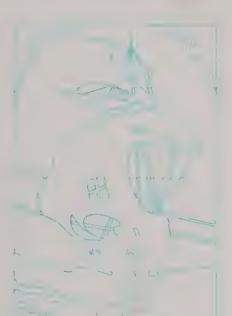

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

We find few like Ruth. She is the kind of person who will forsake her pleasure (or Mac) to study. Perhaps if there were more like her there would be less "flunks" and less doctor's bills for that incurable lover's complex. Her violin has, a big place in her heart and with it she has won a big place in ours.

ACTIVITIES

FRANK TAYLOR SUTTENFIELD

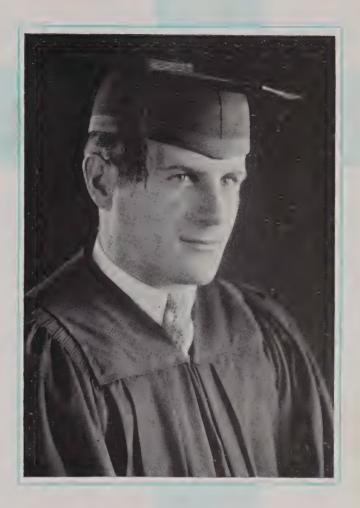

LEAKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

Applicant for B. S. Degree

Frank is an athlete above all things and is the first Hornet to be captain of all three sports. We contribute a great part of this success to the inspiration he receives from the side lines. To every phase of school life he has made his contribution.

ACTIVITIES ___

Varsity Football Squad, 3 years; Varsity Basket-ball Team, 4 years; Varsity Baseball, 4 years; President, Monogram Club; Student Government Council; Captain Basket-ball, '23; Captain, Football, '25; Captain, Baseball, '25; Member, Board of Athletic Control; Secretary, Platonian Literary Society.

MANCHA RODMAN SUTTON

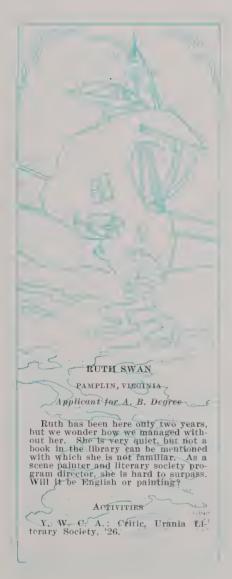

STEVENSVILLE, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Mancha does not assert herself freely but, hevertheless, she has decided opinions of her swan. She is a faithful worker, but is never too busy to help someone else if called upon. We will always remember Mancha by the work she has accomplished through the Expression department.

ACTIVITIES.

Tranian, Literary Society; Public Program, 2 years; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25, '26; Representative of Uranian, Literary Society in Annual Declamation, Contest; Girls' Glee Club, 1925.

ELIZABETH FERGUSON TENCH

LYNDHURST, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

"Tench" has been called the most capable girl on the campus. With her quick studious brain, coupled with natural commonsense, we can easily believe it. "Tench's" interests have been many during her college career and in all she has acquitted herself well. Her friends are many and true to her, as she herself makes a staunch and steadfast friend.

ACTIVITIES

President, Student Government Board; Vice-President, Victoria Literary Society; Vice-President, Sophomore Class; Undergraduate Representative, Y. W. C. A.; Chairman, Conference Committee Y. W. C. A.; Sophomore Representative, Student Government Board; Salutatorian.

WALTER LEE THOMAS, JR.

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA

Applicant for B. S. Degree

"Buck" will make a good doctor we think. The only fear we have for him is that all his patients will be captiyated by his good looks. Yet "Buck" possesses bashfulness which will perhaps saye him.

He has made a name for himself on the football field.

ACTIVITIES

Varsity Football, 2 years; Varsity

HERMAN M. THOMPSON

PULASKI, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Herman, the business man of the school expects to have a million some day and here's wishing him luck. The signer of many a contract during his stay at L. C., Herman is still more anxious to sign one for life shortly after he leaves.

ACTIVITIES

President, Virginian Literary Society; Member, Men's Student Council, '22; Business Manager, '7" Handbook, '24; Manager, Glee Club, '25; Business Manager, The Critograph, '25; Assistant Manager, Baseball; General Director, Student Friendship Fund Campaign, '25.

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Frankness is the clearest description of Ruby. With it she is a good sport, possessing a sincere liking for varied athletics. Perhaps she has been a bit lonesome at times this year and has stopped to think over the past years. Dream on, Ruby, your dreams will be realized yet.

ACTIVITIES

Varsity Hockey, 4 years; Captain, Hockey, 24; Manager, Girls, Basketball, 226; President, Urania Literary Society; Vice-President Urania Literary Society; Vice-President, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 25; Parnassian Club; Charter Member, Insignia Club; Associate Editor, Argonaut, 25; Uranian Public Program.

PAUL HAROLD WATSON

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA

Paul possesses a contagious smile and genial personality, which have won for him a host of friends at L. C. He is classed very highly among Lynchburg's musical talent and is truly a representative college student.

ACTIVITIES

Specs Club; Glee Club, 2 years; Virginian Literary Society; Public Program, 4 years.

LILLIAN LEE WILLIAMSON

HAMPTON, VIRGINIA

Applicant for A. B. Degree

Lynchburg College is noted for its beans and here we have another varity, spelled with a capital "B." This variety is also a Campbell's brand. There's not much to "Beans" if you judge her according to size, but it she is judged on the basis of real ability and personality her worth will fill many cans. This is one kind of "Beans" we can never forget. The flavor lasts.

ACTIVITIES

President, Y. W. C. A., '25; Secretary, Y. W. C. A.; '24; Hockey Squad, 2 years; Captain, Hockey, '25; President Parnassian Club; Argonaut Staff, '24; Associate Editor, The Critograph, '25; Victoria Literary Society; Public Program.

ESTHER REBECCA WRAY

MARTINSVILLE, VIRGINIA

Applican't for B. S. Degree

When we think of "Nig" we always remember her "giggle," and her "Jimmy," She is a jolly good pal and has loads of fun. She is interested in athletics, and made a name for herself as captain of basket-ball this year. "Nig" will be missed in many places of the life at L. C.

Men's Glee Club

Familyonauts

HE history of the Men's Glee Club prior to this year is almost negligible. In 1922 the Men's Glee Club of Lynchburg College was first organized, with J. L. Black as President, and Dr. Emil Berger as Director. Each year, since, there has been an organization, but very little if anything has been accomplished, the club appearing in public only in joint recitals with the Girls' Glee Club or with some branch of the music department.

The first real accomplishment of the Club was last June, when under the direction of Miss Crank of the Expression Department, and Miss Hodge, of the Voice Department, it presented the light comic opera "Pinafore," on the commencement program.

In September of this session the Club met and reorganized. Dr. Leland B. Snoddy was chosen director. John Salowich was elected President and H. M. Thompson, Manager. Under the new organization the Men's Glee Club has been a real live organization and for the first time in the history of the Club has presented entirely independent concerts. In addition to this, the Club has set a precedent which the present organization hopes will be followed up in the coming years; in this year the Club made what is known as the First Annual Tour. This tour has been a real advertising credit to the college.

The First Annual Tour includes concerts at the following places:

Richmond, Virginia—Seventh Street Christian Church.

Amherst, Virginia-Amherst High School.

Princeton, West Virginia—High School Auditorium.

Athens, West Virginia—Concord State Teachers College.

Narrows, Virginia-Narrows High School; Narrows Theater.

East Radford, Virginia—Christian Church; East Radford High School; State Teachers College.

 $Roanoke, Virginia-Belmont\ Christian\ Church.$

In addition to this the club has broadcasted twice from station WBDJ, Roanoke, Virginia.

Blue Ridge

HROUGH the generosity of a number of citizens of Lynchburg, and the efforts of the "Y. W." girls, the college Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s were enabled to send thirty Scholins to the Southern Students' Conference held at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, June, 1925. The men's delegation, consisting of twenty-four students, was the largest at the conference with the exception of the group from the University of North Carolina.

The conference was held at one of eastern America's superb beauty spots. From the porch of the main hall, named for Robert E. Lee, one can look across a deep valley and see the distant range of mountains. On a very cloudy day, because of the altitude, this vast intervening chasm becomes a billowy sea of mist. At the vesper hour when the sun is setting and the atmosphere is clear, the scene across this same valley is in marked contrast to the other, but even more beautiful and picturesque.

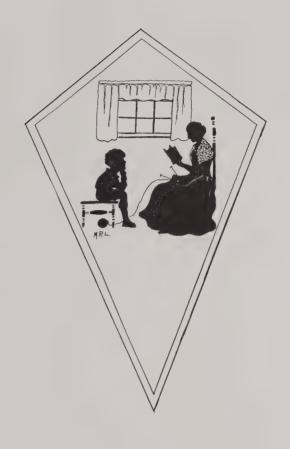

Here in the land of the sky, the members of the groups were re-created for new tasks. The horizons of their thinking began to lose frontiers; they found an adequate religion for modern men and times and they fellowshipped together with nearly five hundred of the finest students of the Southland, discussing mutual problems and aspi-

The Lynchburg delegation was prominent in all the activities of the gathering. Five of the men led discussion groups, and three were members of the regional council which conducted the conference. In athletics also, Lynchburg was known. Although not succeeding in being high point scorer in all sports, L. C. was among those schools heading the list. The tennis doubles team was conference champion.

The fact that most of those who attended are trying to find a way to be at the 1926 conference is a sufficient commentary on their individual estimate of its value in their lives.

ATHLETICS

Roland C. Day

The argonaut

Director of Athletics

N the Fall of 1924 a new system of athletics was instituted at Lynchburg. At the helm of this system was Coach R. C. Day, who had complete charge of all athletics. The new plan replaced the old one which did not provide for a resident coach.

The success of the new plan may be entirely attributed to Coach Day. Taking athletics at a low ebb and installing a new system was no easy task. Therefore our athletics cannot be properly introduced without a word of appreciation for our Coach.

Coach R. C. Day, who received his athletic training at Penn State and Harvard, came to Lynchburg from V. P. I. Before going to that institution Coach Day was director of athletics at Woodrow Wilson High School of Portsmouth, Va., at which place he had championship teams in the three major sports.

Coach Day has always entered into his work optimistically. Although many times laboring under handicaps he has never failed to be master of the situation. One of the most outstanding results of his perseverance was the 1926 Football Team, which was one of the best coached and smoothest working grid machines Lynchburg has ever put in the field.

A good athletic field has always been sorely needed at the College. One of Coach Day's first undertakings was to enlarge and remodel the old field. To-day Lynchburg may boast of the best playing fields in the State. Another accomplishment which cannot be overlooked is the organization of a track team. This was the first year that Lynchburg has ever had track. With the assistance of experienced students, Coach has developed a team which gives promise for a good season, but better than all, he has laid a firm foundation for track in the future.

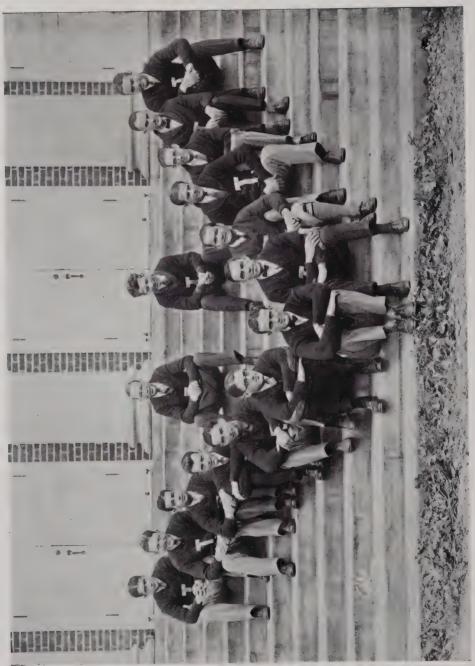

ROLAND C. DAY

Coach Day saw the need for placing the privilege to play sports in as many students' hands as was possible. To cope with this situation he organized a system of intra-mural sports, whereby more than a majority of the student body participate in some branch of athletics. Last year physical education became a part of the activities of every Freshman and Sophomore and now the inter-class basket-ball tournament has become an annual affair.

Lynchburg's success in the realm of college athletics can alone be attributed to our Coach. His untiring efforts have produced well-coached teams and have been an inspiration to the men who worked under him. Lasting as his accomplishments will be, yet Coach Day has erected an everlasting monument which reads, "In all his efforts he played the part of a gentleman."

Football

a The argonaut for

N the 31st of August, the gridmen of L. C. reported to Coach Day. Organization and development at once began for what became one of the most able elevens ever to uphold the colors of Lynchburg College. From the outset, prospects were bright. Only two regulars from last year's team were missing and several recruits of superior caliber donned a Hornet uniform for the first time.

The opening encounter came on the 19th of September at Blacksburg when the proteges of Coach Day clashed with the strong and heavy Gobbler team of V. P. I. After the first few minutes of play it was evident the V. P. I. warriors had met their match. A touchdown in the first few minutes of play and a lone dropkick in the second quarter ended the Gobblers' scoring. The entire L. C. line displayed a splendid brand of ball, V. P. I. gaining only 50 yards through the Hornet line during the entire game. The defensive work of "Buck" Thomas was the feature of the Lynchburgers' play. "Tubby" Shank at center also displayed a fine defensive game.

During the next two weeks Coach Day was busily engaged in ironing out the rough spots which appeared in the V. P. I. fracas and in building up the offensive attack of the Hornets. On the 3rd of October they journeyed to the Capital City to encounter the University of Richmond. Although the Hornets clearly outplayed the Spider team, they succumbed to the brilliant aerial attack displayed by the latter and were handed the small end of a 7-5 score. In the opening quarter Leitman placed a neat dropkick between the uprights giving the Lynchburgers an early advantage. But this was overcome in the fourth quarter when the Spiders scored on a forward pass. With only three minutes to go Lynchburg made a safety but the ball went over to Richmond as the final whistle blew.

One Hundred Fifty-two

In The argonaut

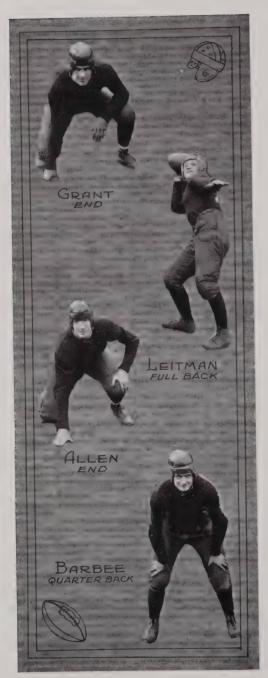

On the following Saturday the Hornets opened their home season by overwhelmingly defeating Randolph-Macon, 41-0. Bob Carpenter, McMains, Ross and Leitman gained at will while the Yellow Jackets were unable to pierce the Hornet line. Lynchburg made twenty-three first downs to two for their opponents, which was evidence of the rare offensive as well as defensive play of the locals. The feature of the game was the punting of Max Leitman. On two occasions, he sent the pigskin through the air for seventy-five and eighty yards, respectively.

The next home game came the following Saturday when the Hornets encountered the Hampden-Sidney eleven. The visitors emerged victors by a 13-0 score in a game devoid of thrill. The Hornets had their off day in this encounter. "Buck" Thomas being the only back who was anywhere near his true form. In the line Captain Suttenfield, "Bob" Givens, and Grant acquitted themselves well.

Next the proteges of Coach Day encountered the Emory and Henry eleven on the latter's home ground. The game was characterized by the dash and fight of both elevens but the superior weight of the Hornets made their advance uncheckable by the Wasps and the Hornets plowed through a sea of mud to a 12-0 victory. Captain Suttenfield, a star of every encounter, played one of the best games of his career while McMains showed up well on the defensive. Gerald and Carpenter were easily the best ground gainers for the Hornets. On every exchange of punts Leitman gained at least twenty yards.

5 The argonitut 18

On the last day of October the Hornets encountered V. M. I. at Lexington and were downed in a hard-fought game by a 33-0 score. The score does not indicate the closeness of the set-to between the two teams for after the first few minutes of play the Hornet line was almost impregnable and the Cadets' scoring came chiefly as the result of accurate passing. Captain Suttenfield and Grant were the outstanding players of this encounter; Suttenfield seemed to be everywhere and Grant, time and again, threw Cadet backs for heavy losses.

The Hornets then invaded the Tar Heel State to encounter the Guilford College eleven and handed the Quakers a 34-13 trimming. The Hornets in this game presented a well-rounded and smooth-working grid machine whose advance could not be checked by the Quakers. Carpenter and McMains were the stars of this encounter. "Flash" was in true form and ran wild against the Guilford eleven; while Mc-Mains, triple threat star of the Hornets. gave a brilliant exhibition of open field running and his accurate passing accounted for many Hornet gains. The manner in which Grant and Perry received Hornet passes was also a feature.

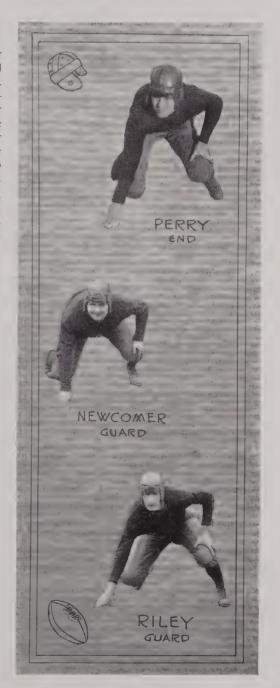

Elon invaded the realms of L. C. and was handed the small end of a 12-0 score. The game, although somewhat slow, contained many bright spots, chiefly due to the ability of Carpenter, Hornet speed merchant, to skirt the Elonite ends. The feature of the game and one of the most sensational plays of the season was the snatching of an Elon pass out of the air by Carpenter and a beautiful broken field run of seventy-five yards for a touchdown. The Hornets displayed a powerful defense; the line by its exhibition further established its position as being one of the best in the State. The work of Carpenter was easily the feature of the game, while McMains, Thomas, and Suttenfield also played an excellent game for the Hornets.

F The argonaut !

The 28th of November, on the home ground, was played the game that will live long in the minds of everyone witnessing it. It was a case of hard luck defeating the better team, for no one denies that Roanoke was outclassed in every department of the game and the Hornets had the better of the argument in every way, although they lost by a 9-6 count. The Roanoke score, a touchdown and a safety, came as the result of bad breaks while the defensive and offensive play of the locals was as good as any ever witnessed in this section. L. C. made eleven first downs while the best Roanoke could do was but four. The passing attack of the Hornets was a feature of the game while the work of the Hornet line gained for it recognition as one of the best in the State. Every man on the L. C. eleven starred at his position. George West, one of the most consistent and powerful men of the team, showed up unusually well, while Captain Suttenfield, Carpenter, and Grant attracted a great deal of attention. Throughout the entire game the indomitable spirit of the Hornet eleven and the way in which every man fought made every supporter of the Crimson and Gray proud of the exhibition given of the spirit of ole L. C. Certain it is that the locals played in a manner which fittingly and properly climaxed the most successful gridiron season enjoyed by L. C. for several years.

YNCHBURG opened the 1926 basket-ball season in the Memorial Gymnasium, on the night of January 13, when the locals lost a hard-fought game to Hampden-Sidney by a 22-18 score. The feature of the game was the furious rally staged by the Hornets after the Tigers had amassed a twelve-point lead. Rose, with five field goals to his credit, led the Hornets in scoring, while Perry and Captain McMains also played a good floor game.

On the 16th of January the Hornets began their invasion of the courts of the "Big Four" when they met the championship team of the University of Virginia. The Cavaliers emerged victors from a clean and hard-fought contest by a 57-33 score. Suttenfield and Rose, with three field goals each, led the Hornet attack, while the work of Perry on the defense was prominent.

On the eighteenth the proteges of Coach Day put up a good fight against W. and L. The Generals were forced to muster all their strength in order to attain a 36-22 victory. Rose, Perry, and Suttenfield were the stars in the Hornets' attack.

The following night the Lynchburgers met V. M. I., but were unable to cope with the heavy five of the Flying Squadron. The game was spirited and exceptionally rough. The Hornets were taken into camp by a 40-21 score. Suttenfield, Perry, and McMains did the best work for the Hornets.

On the 22nd of January the Hornets encountered the strong University of Richmond quint on the home court. The accurate shooting of Perry and the floor-work of McMains and Suttenfield, coupled with the fast passing of the entire quint during the first half pointed to a Lynchburg victory. However, in the final period they were bewildered by the passing attack of the Spiders and succumbed to them by a 35-16 count.

Coach Day's men opened the month of February in an auspicious manner by gaining a 24-23 victory over the strong V. P. I. team, in a game replete with thrills. During the last few minutes of play with the score 23-22 in Tech's favor, Clark intercepted a Tech pass and looped a neat goal just as the whistle blew, thereby bringing the victory to ole L. C.

On the 3rd of February the Hornets invaded North Carolina, first encountering Duke University. The Hornets made the same number of field goals as the Tar Heels, but lost by a 36-31 count because of the superior foul shooting of their opponents. In this game Suttenfield, Perry, Leitman, and Rose each made three field goals.

One Hundred Sixty

The argonaut

The next night the Hornets met Elon. The game was a see-saw affair with the final outcome in doubt until the whistle blew with Elon on the long end of a 17-15 score.

On February 11th Duke University downed Lynchburg by a score of 29-27. Two extra five-minute periods were required before a decision could be reached. Suttenfield, Perry, and Grant stood out prominently.

Lynchburg defeated Randolph-Macon 18-15, on February 13th. The game was characterized by roughness and poor shooting on both sides.

The Hornets lost another game by a one-point margin on the 20th when Guilford won an extra-period contest with a 22-21 score. Clarke's accurate shooting from the field made him the outstanding Hornet player.

The last home game of the season was lost to V. M. I., 33-16, on the 22nd. This affair, like the first game with the Cadets, was little less than a football game, but V. M. I. was unquestionably superior.

On the 24th the Hornet quint began the Richmond trip with a 32-31 defeat by Hampden-Sidney. The fight and dash of both teams coupled with rare flashes of basket-ball made the game an unusually interesting one.

Coach Day's men were defeated the next night by the University of Richmond, 56-27. The feature of the game was the refereeing, which was the poorest ever encountered by the local quint.

The next night the Hornets fared better, defeating Randolph-Macon 22-20, in a hard-fought battle. Clark, with five field goals and two fouls, took the scoring honors.

Another victory closed the season. The fast Virginia Medical College quint was defeated February 27th by a 35-24 score. Clark was easily the star of the evening, netting 22 of the 35 Hornet counters.

The season was more successful than the percentage of victories would indicate. A "jinx" seemed to follow the team, often denying it victory when it showed superiority over its opponents.

LYNCHBURG COLLEGE SONG

There's a College in the Old Dominion—
It's the dearest one we know—
'Mid mountains blue and valleys, too,
That have made us love it so;
Where the famous James is gently winding,
Round our dear old college home,
With its undulating campus
Where we always love to roam.

Chorus
In dear old Lynchburg College,
Is the college life we love,
Where the southern breeze
Is playing through the trees,
And the clear skies float above,
By the famous James we wander,
Through the old Hill City roam;
For dear old Lynchburg College
Is our college home.

II

It's the finest sort of co-ed college,
Where their eyes are brown or blue,
Where the boys are brave and gallant lads,
And the maidens fond and true;
Where we rush the lines with winning ball teams,
And we bring our vic'tries home
To dear old Lynchburg College,

Baseball

HE 1925 baseball season was ushered in on the second day of April when L. C. traveled to Charlottesville to cross bats with the powerful Cavalier At the outset Virginia began a with the powerful Cavaner nine. At the outset Virginia began a concerted attack which they kept up the entire game. However, the Hornets made but three miscues throughout the entire game, which speaks exceptionally well for a team playing its first game of the season. The inability of Coach Day's men to use their bats effectively while the nine of the University of Virginia hit hard and frequently, resulted in the Hornets being downed by a 15-1 score. Neal Oliver played well in the field while Perry led the Hornets with the stick, registering two safeties in four trips to the plate.

On the next day the Hornets played the strong Washington and Lee team and were outclassed by the fast working and hard hitting of the Generals. The game was marked by the terrific batting of the Generals and the air-tight pitching they presented, which combined, gave them a 16-0 victory. However, in the face of the terrific batting of the Generals, the Hornets made but two more errors than did the victors. Oden and Barbee registered hits.

On the following day the Hornets suffered their third consecutive defeat when V. M. I. won an 11-5 contest at Lexington. In this game the Hornets showed much improvement, especially in their stick work, outhitting their opponents 9-8. Four of the Hornets' hits were for extra bases, J. Suttenfield registering a triple. However, the Hornets had a bad inning in the fifth when the Cadets gained an eight-run advantage. Perry, F. Suttenfield, and Worrell each collected two hits while Worrell pitched a steady game except for a bad fifth inning.

Rain prevented the Hornets from playing the University of Pennsylvania. Again on the 20th of April, the cohorts of Coach Day invaded hostile territory, encountering William and Mary first on this trip. The Indians took the measure of the Hornets by a 15-3 score. However, the determined fighting spirit of the Hornets was evidenced throughout the entire game and on several occasions Lynchburg threatened to rally strongly but was stopped by airtight pitching. Although facing the best batters in the State, Carpenter pitched the entire game. It was in the fifth inning of this game that "Tubby" Shank smashed out a four-bagger.

55hu Chigomaut

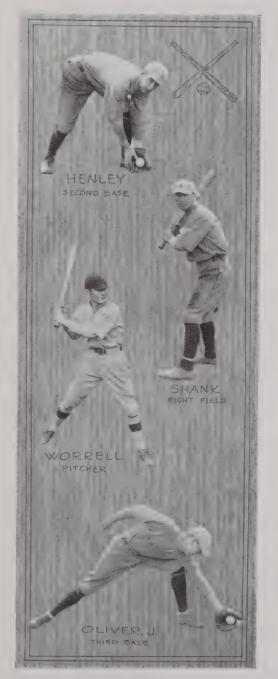

On the next day L. C. fared better when they conquered the hard-fighting Randolph-Macon nine in an extra-inning contest by a 6-5 score. Each team held the lead at various times, throughout the game. In the tenth inning, Shank hit another home run which won the game. Worrell, although hit hard, kept the Yellow Jackets' hits scattered and F. Suttenfield starred at the bat, gathering three singles and a double.

On the following day, playing under adverse weather conditions, L. C. lost to Richmond University by a 7-4 score on the latter's grounds. Due to the coldness and dampness of the weather the game was somewhat slow. The scoring was done chiefly in the first innings with Richmond gaining an early advantage. The lead which Richmond took at the outset was more than the Hornets could overcome, although they out-hit the Spiders 10-7 and made fewer miscues in the field. Carpenter, after entering the box as a relief pitcher in the early part of the game, pitched effectively.

The four-game trip was brought to a close when the Hornets were defeated by Hampden-Sidney, 7-3. Although Lynchburg hit harder and as often as the Tigers, misplays at critical times paved the way for the Hampden-Sidney victory. Worrell, pitching his second game of the trip, held the Tigers hitless for the first four innings.

Returning home, the Hornets played their fifth game in as many days. They lost to Wake Forest, 20-0. The strain of the trip, with the pitching staff run down, resulted in a poorly played contest. Wake Forest hit in a terrific manner throughout the entire game and was never in danger.

On the 9th of May, Coach Day's men journeyed to Roanoke and there encountered the fast-working team of Roanoke College. The Hornets at the outset began a furious attack. A single by J. Oliver was followed by a home run by Neal Oliver. This two-run advantage Lynchburg held for several innings until Kick, who had been pitching very effectively, weakened and was succeeded by Carpenter and McIntire. The trio of Hornet pitchers yielded seventeen hits which, coupled with several Hornet errors, allowed Roanoke twenty-one runs.

One Hundred Sixty-seven

The argonaut &

Although the season was somewhat unsuccessful, the Hornets made a good finish on May 15th by gaining a 5-2 victory over Randolph-Macon. The Crimson and Gray played like a rejuvenated team, displaying a brand of baseball that would have assured them of victory in almost any contest. Bob Carpenter, who toed the slab for the locals, was in fine form, allowing only seven scattered hits and causing five Yellow Jackets to retire via the strike-out route. The entire L. C. nine played a clean brand of baseball, having but one error marked against them throughout the contest. Although the Hornets did not gather a great number of hits, in the face of the effective pitching, they hit in a manner which assured them of victory. Shank, with two safeties, led the Hornet attack, while Suttenfield played an admirable game in the field.

Thus the '25 baseball season of L. C. is recorded and, although it was somewhat discouraging, Coach Day and the team deserve a great deal of credit for the fighting spirit displayed throughout the entire season.

HE Lynchburg College Tennis Team enjoyed a most successful season in 1925. Under the leadership of Captain Harrison McMains, who extended to two years his record of being undefeated in collegiate tennis, the squad won three out of four of the tournaments played rain keeping them from State championship competition.

A very superior brand of tennis was exhibited from the start. A practice match with Randolph-Macon College on the local courts was taken by the Hornet netmen, 3-2. Matches with V. P. I., Hampden-Sidney and V. M. I. were rained out. The first scheduled meet of the season was with W. and L. there. The Crimson and Gray team sprang a surprise, carried off the 1st and 2nd singles and 1st doubles—the tournament ending 3-3. Journeying to Hampden-Sidney, the Tiger court team was subdued, 4-2.

The only defeat of the season came at the hands of the Oakwood Country Club, whose men were all veterans, and of marked ability. Retaliation was had by the Hornets in the other local meet, however, at the expense of the Y. M. C. A. No match went to extra sets, for the College netmen were decidedly "on," trimming the "Y", 5-0.

Captain McMains, who played first singles, was the individual star of the season. His strength was in a steady court game, an uncanny ability to get the ball back from almost any position and a policy of "try for every one."

Kendall, playing second singles, also went through the season undefeated in collegiate matches. "Paul" has the wonderful ability in wrist stroking, returning equally well from either side.

Oden and Lowder alternated at third and fourth singles. Oden played a straight driving game, wearing out the opponents' back line. He was particularly strong at the net, registering many points there with a crashing drive. Lowder played the headiest game of all the team. His ability to "stroke" the ball, especially with the back-hand "loffard," was the despair of the opposition. Virgil was returned victor in his last three matches.

Tennis at L. C. has received a boom as a result of the

The prospects for 1925 Hornette Basketball were very bright when practice began in December. Clara Eason Elliott, star forward and ex-captain, was back, and three other members of the 1924 Varsity, Esther Wray, guard, who was Captain-elect, Clara Hoye, the speedy side center, and Irene Kiser, forward, all returned. With these as a nucleus around which to build her team, Miss Peck had also very promising new material. Anne Hundley as forward, who proved to be a splendid running mate for "Clac"; Lucy Hundley, a close second to Hoye; Ruth Gardner and Julia Smithson as strong defenders of Lynchburg's basket; and Catharine Swart, the tall center from Charlottesville High.

The season opened at Farmville State Teachers' College, January 12th, when the Hornettes were defeated by a score of 41-21. The loss was a noticeable evidence of lack of experience as a team and a carelessness in fouling. Clara Hoye was the only L. C. player who did herself justice.

The game in Farmville only served to show the co-ed team their weaknesses, and once back in Lynchburg and on their home court, they began with great determination to "mend their faults." The second game was on February 12th with the William and Mary Co-eds. The most noticeable feature of this game was the excessive fouling on both sides. There was no outstanding star for either side, the forwards of both teams shooting about evenly. The guarding of both teams was very close, each guard being fouled. At the end of the first half of the game, the score stood at a tie, but near the close Swart, the Lynchburg center, was hurt and W. and M. gained a four-point lead, the game ending 37-34.

On February 19th, on their home court, the Lynchburg College Co-eds played the best game of the season, and undertook to avenge their former defeats at the hands of the Farmville and W. and M. teams.

Ruby Walton
Manager

Farmville came to L. C. aspiring to take back with them a similar score to that of January 12th, but were surprised when the whistle blew and the score stood 29-29. Rules for Girls' Basket-ball do not allow a tie to be played off. Obenchain as guard, and Swart in center, played the best game for Lynchburg, but the speed of the game was somewhat slowed up by the number of substitutes used by both sides.

19 The argonaut

Radford State Teachers' College, the State Champions, met "Our Co-eds" March 13th, outplaying them and winning by a score of 29-10. The co-eds fought with vigor until the last whistle, and really "put-out" every atom of strength and ability at their disposal. Consequently the game was noticeably rough.

Upon reviewing the Girls' 1925 Basketball season, one notes the progress that has been made over former years, and realizes that only because of the inexperience of the players as a team, was the season apparently unsuccessful. With practically all of the Varsity intending to return next year, prospects for Hornette Basket-ball in 1927 bid fair.

EGULAR hockey practice began at L. C. September 30. Several members of last year's team returned to college, and valuable material was discovered among the Freshmen. The squad improved rapidly under the direction of Coach Peck and Captain "Beans" Williamson, but because of the small amount of funds allotted to Hockey by the Athletic Association, Manager Newell Neale was unable to arrange any inter-collegiate games.

There was an inter-class game, however, on November 27, between the Senicr-Sophs and Junior-Freshmen. Though the girls had broken training, and were not in good form, they played a fast, exciting game, which ended in a 4-4 tie. The most consistent players were "Judy" Smithson and Catherine Swart, while the most spectacular was Clara Hoye.
